FLEXIBLE LEARNING

You can complete each course in your own time. Access courses at work or at home and stop and start as many times as you like. Once you complete all the modules in one course we send you a personalised course certificate that can be used to claim CPD points.

CPD POINTS

Our courses are endorsed by a range of colleges and organisations. You can usually claim one credit point for each hour you spend completing our courses. Learners usually spend between one and two hours to complete a single course.

Our practical courses are created by some of Australia's leading health professionals. If you're involved in patient blood management and transfusion practices then our courses will help you know and lower the risks and improve practice and patient outcomes.
